

“Time is short and there will be no divine intervention to stop you ruining this beautiful planet, as many would have you believe. Only by your increased awareness can it be stopped, for if divine intervention were the answer then there would be no point in you being here. Always there is choice.”

Act now to Heal the Planet!

The Earth is alive but grievously wounded as a direct result of mankind treating it as a lifeless resource to be plundered or ignored. We know — because science gives us hard facts — that we are relentlessly destroying our own life-support systems and those of all the creatures that share the planet with us. We also know that huge numbers of aware people do what they can to halt the destruction and yet at times the problem appears overwhelming. But there is something real we can all do that utilises the most powerful tool we all have at our disposal — our thought.

In simple terms, we might say that the environment is suffering because of the actions of greedy and ignorant people, and to an extent this is true, but in the first place those actions arose from thoughts. It has been understood for thousands of years that thought carries energy and is the force that connects all living things. This is why the practice of meditation and mastering thought is at the heart of all great spiritual teachings, for the undisciplined mind is like a loose cannon firing volleys of harmful energy into the world. We are told that the energy created by thought creates a kind of permanent lattice around the earth, a bit like an energy-atmosphere that every living thing inhales as well as contributes to, whether they wish to or not.

Once we become aware of the power of the thoughts that issue from our minds, we have the choice of either taking responsibility for them or carrying on reacting to life in the same old way. Those who accept responsibility must also accept the scary prospect of the power they may carry and this is why having a clear motivation is paramount. Most healers will say that the energy they use to heal and transform is the power of love and that their motivation is compassion for the suffering of others. Compassion, of course, is not confined to those with ‘labels’ but is inherent in everyone of good heart and so we can all be healers in our thoughts for planet Earth.

Pure Love is the spiritual force that drives the universe and thought is man’s closest link with it.

Everything reacts to thought: human beings, plant and animal life and the planet itself. And every thought, every movement, also makes its impression on the universe. It therefore follows that the energy created by collective thought has great impact. So groups who gather to pray or meditate together attune their thoughts collectively to a spiritual direction and thus generate a powerful energy of love. Those with certain psychic ability, who can see this energy, know this to be true.

This is why we are arranging large Planet Healing Events to harness and focus our healing thoughts of love to the living planet. Join us if you possibly can — and have no doubt that your contribution will be effective and valued.

The first PLANET HEALING EVENT is on Sunday 4th September at the Riviera International Conference Centre in Torquay, Devon from 2.30 to 4.30pm. Entrance is FREE and doors open at 2pm.

The afternoon will be hosted by internationally-respected healer Jane Tinworth and members of the World Awareness Trust..

People of all backgrounds and ages are welcome, including children. Come alone or with a friend, family, church or group — but be there!

The second PLANET HEALING EVENT will take place on Sunday 11th December 2005 in the form of co-ordinated meetings around the world.

Both events are sponsored by the World Awareness Trust, a non-profit-making, non-denominational trust dedicated to raising spiritual awareness through meditation, healing & self-development.
